Overview

Engagement of key populations, people living with and/or affected by the three diseases, civil society and community representatives is a key principle that guides the activities of the Kenya Coordinating Mechanism (KCM). Such engagement should continue throughout the grant life cycle to provide valuable input to strengthen the delivery of programs and achievement of targets. Each KCM should establish a mechanism to engage with these constituencies in a way that allows their input and voices to be heard.

For this engagement, at least 15% of the funding provided to the KCM by the Global Fund must be allocated to constituency engagement for non-governmental sector activities, including civil society, key vulnerable population groups, and communities of people living with and affected by the three diseases, to promote and improve the quality of stakeholder participation.

To amplify the participation and voice of a KCM's key populations, civil society and people living with and/or affected by the three diseases constituencies, this assignment will enhance their preparation and participation both prior to and following CM (and relevant KCM Committee) meetings. The planned support will be provided by a national consultant hired independently by the KCM.

Objective and Scope

a. Amplify the participation and voice of representatives of key and vulnerable populations, civil society, and/or communities living with and/or affected by the three diseases in KCM meetings and related decision-making forums (e.g. KCM sub-committees), and more generally in governance and stewardship of national HIV, TB and malaria response(s).

For KCMs in the transition context, there should be an added focus on how inclusion and participatory decision-making in national health governance will be maintained when the country transitions out of Global Fund financing.
